

Returning from a motorcycle ride in the Canadian Rockies, I watched for deer that are known to jump onto the highway. After scanning one side, I turned and gazed at a mother moose and her two-yearling, looping along the wide ditch beside us—a potentially dangerous situation, but beautiful to watch.